

Educational Facilities Offered in Washington Yearly Bring Many Students to Take Advantage of Them.

The Third Plenary Council of Baltimore, November, 1884, the establishment of a university was resolved upon, and its scope more clearly defined. The offer made to the council by Miss Mary Gwendoline Caldwell, of Newport, R. I., of $300,000 for the purpose of founding a "grand theological seminary for the higher education of the clergy of the United States, said seminary to form the city, "so like its architecture is the magnificent group of buildings in connection with St. Patrick's Church."

One of the structures is St. Patrick's Academy, which four years ago was dedicated to the cause of education by Cardinal Gibbons in the presence of President Roosevelt, members of the Cabinet and men high in church and state. Its conception and construction and the unusual ceremonies of dedication gives personal attention to the welfare of the children. Rev. James A. Smyth instructs them in religion.

Interstate Commercial Institute.
The Interstate Commercial Institute, a recently organized business school and accounting bureau, has established its headquarters in the city of Washington at 729 Fifteenth street, where they will occupy an entire floor. Their selection

The new era in the history of the university dates from the election to the presidency in June, 1902, of Dr. Charles W. Needham. In 1903 greater unity was brought about in the educational system by linking more closely the divifor consular and diplomatic position and for the public service of the United States, while imparting that general culture and equipment necessary for efficient citizenship and the intelligent grasp of public questions.

The session of 1908-1909 begins September 29, 1908. The academic year is divided into two parts, the first half

The Catholic University occupies a most charming site on the outskirts of the National Capital. Broad acres of fragrant woodland and wide lawns surround the beautiful group of University Buildings. By reason of its superb physical attractiveness, its strong faculty, and its vast endowment, the Catholic University offers not alone to graduate students and those in pursuit of licentiate and doctorate degrees, but to youths fresh from the preparatory and high schools of the country an opportunity for the acquirement of an education along the broadest lines, in THEOLOGY, LAW, PHILOSOPHY, LETTERS, SCIENCES, and the ARTS.
